Anne & Theo

JITED is a peer-reviewed journal, focuses on international economics, economic development and, more importantly, the interface between trade and development. The links between trade and development economics are critical at a time when both fluctuating commodity prices and trade liberalization and agreements can radically affect the economies of developing countries.

JITED aims to meet the needs of international and development economists, economic historians, applied economists and policy makers. The international experts who make up the Journal’s Editorial Board encourage contributions from economists worldwide.

Notes for Contributors

All submissions should be made online at the International Trade & Economic Development Manuscript Central site (link to https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com). New users should first create an account. Once a user is logged into the site submissions should be made via the Author Centre.

Authors should prepare and upload two versions of their manuscript. One should be a complete text, while in the second all document information identifying the author should be removed from files to allow them to be sent anonymously to referees. When uploading files, authors will have the ability to define the anonymous version as ‘File for review’ when submitting a manuscript, please upload all of your original source files.

Submissions of full-length articles will be taken to indicate that it is a present unpublished work not under consideration for publication elsewhere. Authors should prepare their typescript carefully: help if authors follow the above instructions, and return their page proofs to the editor on the date requested.

Corresponding authors will receive free online access to their article through our website (www.informaworld.com) and a complimentary copy of the issue containing their article. Reprints of articles published in this journal can be purchased through Rightslink. All enquiries concerning the submission of articles, correspondence and other material dealing with editorial matters should be addressed to the following Editor: Professor Pasquale M.
